2. President's Corner

By Jim Gill

Another month, another year; I am sure we all will look back and question where did the year go as time passed us by. However, we did have an exciting last month of the year for the car club starting with our annual Christmas Party. Everyone enjoyed the social event, dinner, program and gift exchange and thievery. Speaking of program I can attest it was good to hear Warren Daniels speak about his wonderful time with Jay Leno and company at Jay's garage. The pink elephant did find a new home at a secret home for the year. Thanks to all who help make arrangements.

We also had good attendance visiting the Eubanks car collection of Pittsboro. Viewing a fine collection of high end cars from the 30's-60's positioned without recognizable format in various buildings and lean-to's. Mr. Eubanks shared some of his life's experiences in collecting cars and the many car lovers he interfaced with over the years.

Lastly, the Christmas holidays are upon us and we now have to attend to our family gatherings exchanging stories, food and gifts. My granddaughters were adamant that I must put up a trimmed tree and exterior lights, to which I relented. Packages are wrapped and awaiting the time to be opened.

Safe travels for those hitting the byways and "Happy Holidays" to all. We will see you at our next Triangle Chapter gathering in January.

7. Greensboro Auto Auction

By Denny Oestreich

The Greensboro Auto Auction (GAA) holds a Classic car Auction three times a year at their full time facility in Greensboro, NC. They usually have about 500+ cars that go across the auction block at each auction. The vehicles for auction are all displayed for viewing in one of three areas, outside for late arriving vehicles (about 80 vehicles, a covered warehouse area with about 200 vehicles and the more expensive vehicles are in the main Auction Center (200 vehicles). They provide seating so you can watch the auction and they have a snack bar, so you can purchase drinks and sandwiches. Of course if you are a bidder there are special amenities and seating. Their format is to auction the bargain cars on Thursday afternoon and evening as a rehearsal for their big Friday and Saturday auctions.

Jim Gill, Bob Lovelace, Jack Agayoff and I attended the November 4, 2017 auction day to see the cars on display and to watch the auction. We watched many vehicles go across the auction block while looking at the inventory. We made estimates on how much some cars would sell for and watched to see if we were close. Most cars sell around the prices listed in the Old Car Price Guide. On Friday there were vehicles selling for between $6000 (an 89 Corvette in need of work) and $825,000 (a one off custom Mustang built by Carroll Shelby). My favorite vehicle was a 1920 Model T which sold for $7000. The new owner told me it was cheaper than a lawn mower.

1953 Oldsmobile 98 Fiesta High Bid $125,000

2004 Shelby Cobra Concept Car
Sold for $825,000

1920 Ford Model T Sold for $7000

1957 Mercury Montclair Phaeton Convertible
Sold for $58,000

There are a lot of people attending the auction to both to look at the cars and bid. We recognized the auction team from the television auctions as they helped bidders get the best deal. There is a lot of activity as cars are started and lined up for auction and are then pulled by golf cart back to their display areas. Closed circuit TVs throughout the facility allow you to watch the auction while you look at cars. You will run into many people you know at the auction. We met Tom Pruett and Bill Werner both enjoying the show.

Seeing all the cars for sale and watching the auction activity takes about 5 hours. To see the results of the latest auction and announcements of upcoming auctions check out their Website at:

8. Chick Fil-A Car Display

By Denny Oestreich

Saturday November 9, 2016 was a cold at the Chick Fil-A car display. Ten Triangle members came with their vehicles to Chick Fil-A at Capital Crossing shopping center to enjoy a day of displaying their vehicles and car discussions. Several other car owners joined us for the display and we recruited. As in the past, Chick Fil-A treated us to an enjoyable lunch.

Members participating with vehicles were: Jack Agayoff, Chet Butcher, Jack Johnson, Chet Butcher, Bob & Bonda Fuhrman, Marv gage, John and Mary Gilliam, Joe Parsons, Dean Tryon, Denny Oestreich and Roger Lopera (new member with a 1950 Dodge)

The Line Up.
Jack, Marv and John

Joe, Dean and Roger Lopera (our newest member – 1950 Dodge).

Bonda and Bob Fuhrman

John, Chet, Chet, and Bob

The Capital Crossings Chick Fil-A has expanded business even more. They have the most customers of any business in the shopping center. This year they asked us to move from the spaces near the building so they could serve two lines in their drive through.

Thanks to Jack Agayoff for arranging this event.

9. Hilton Head Concurs

By Joe Parsons

Our trip to the Hilton Head Concurs de' Elegance with the 1955 Studebaker Speedster was fun, but we did not win a class award. There was another 1955 Speedster in our class who got best in show. He even had a half page ad in show brochure for his new book with photo of his speedster in the ad. I had the feeling that if he won Best in Class that there would be no way the judges would allow another speedster to take second place.

Joe and Betsy Parsons Drive Past the Reviewing Stand to Receive a Special Award

After the ribbons were placed on the cars a judge came over to me and congratulated me for winning a Special Concur award . He placed an orange ribbon (Special Award, Best Vacation Car) on my car and I was in the parade with other cars to the awards platform. The drive through the crowds is satisfaction enough for me

The day before the judging I found a fog light was not working and tried my best to find a new bulb, but no luck. Ok, this is one deduction and then on show day I noticed that the chrome area by right parking light assembly was actually turning a yellow color, very noticeable....of course it was right above the bad fog light ...so another deduction. ( I have notified the plating company and they said return it for another plating no charge)

All in all it was a fun time with good weather and seeing several friends living in Hilton Head or bringing cars,

10. Fall Tour to Southern Supreme Fruitcake Factory

By Chad Goldman

On a beautiful Saturday morning in November, sixteen Chapter members and family gathered for a relaxing drive through the back-roads of North Carolina. It was a very enjoyable route, through parts of our state that I had never been through before. Like a few others, I found out that I actually like fruit cake, especially (possibly the only) fruit cake made by Southern Supreme. The store at Southern Supreme was filled with all kinds of goodies; I came home with fruit cake, some jams, and a bunch of candies. (Many members walked away with bags of goodies for themselves, family and friends!)

I'd like to reiterate that Chet Butcher deserves the lion's share of the credit for bailing me out when I fell behind in my planning of the route. He did a fantastic job of taking us from some larger, busy roads down to a gravel road, and everything in between.

11. Triangle Chapter Holiday Party

By Annie Goldman

Our annual holiday gathering has come and gone, but the memory will live on through all who attended! Bob Safrit again was gracious to help Jean Soehnlein in securing The Stag Club in Raleigh for the 2017 Triangle Chapter Christmas party. The location is just beautiful, in a gorgeously decorated building with warm woods, leather and antler chandeliers!

We had cheeses and sliced meats, as well as chips and pretzels as appetizers. The Forks provided our meal of beef and chicken and delicious chocolate cream pie, coconut custard pie and red velvet cake. Members were asked to bring a new, unwrapped gift to donate to Toys for Tots and also a food item to be won by another member.

Which wrapped gift holds the Pink Elephant?! We had to wait all night to find out!

Over the summer, Jean Soehnlein gave Jim Gill a beautiful piece of Ebony and he presented Jean with this gorgeous, hand-made waste basket made with the Ebony wood.

As usual, our toy drive for Toys for Tots was a huge success and we filled the back of my Burb. I'm quite sure many children will be delighted with the items our wonderful members donated.

12. Raleigh Classics Auto Auction

By Denny Oestreich

Many of us have come to enjoy auto auctions, especially the Raleigh Classic auto auction. On December 8th and 9th this year the Raleigh Classics auction was held at the NC State Fair Grounds. Besides the opportunity to purchase a classic vehicle, this auction is also an opportunity to see a great car show with a new mix of nearly 300 classic vehicles up close. In fact, since these vehicles are all for sale you have an opportunity to carefully open doors and hoods and inspect the vehicles up close. When they go across the auction block you can also see them started and driven.

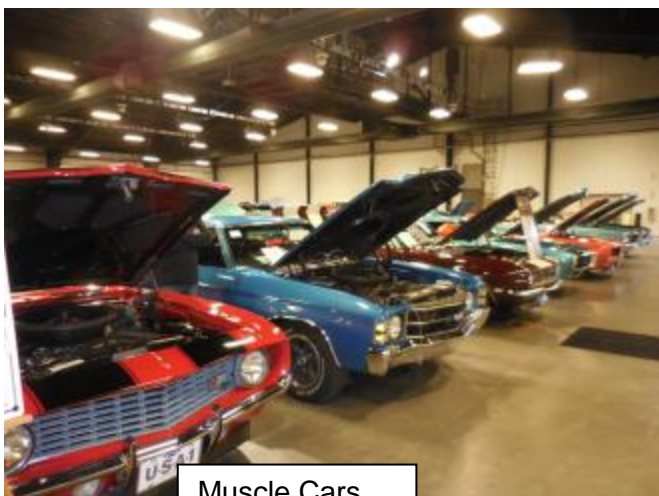

An Early Ford V8

A Collection of Mercury Woody Wagons

The vehicles for sale at the auction are all screened to be high quality running vehicles, many with low mileage. The selection was from early Model A Fords to a 2005 Pontiac GTO with 24 miles on the odometer. There was also a selection of Woody Wagons from a prestigious collection. Most vehicles sold at near their estimated prices as listed in the Old Car Price Guide. Some of the more popular vehicles ready for auction were 15-20 of the mid 60s and early 70s performance cars including Camaros, Firebirds, GTOs and Mustangs. A surprise to me was an all original 1966 Corvette which sold for $62,000 with two bidders anxious to own it.

2005 Pontiac GTO with 28 Miles

Another feature of the auction was the display of vehicles that did not meet reserve and were grouped together with large yellow window sheet that said "Still for Sale". These vehicles were open to negotiation with the owner while the auction is still in progress. The highest bid is listed on a bid board and on the vehicles.

You can have another look and negotiate a sale price with the owner. Two interesting vehicles that did not sell were a 57 T-Bird with a high bid of only $11,500 and a very rare immaculately restored very rare 1945 Chevrolet Pickup truck with a high bid of $40,000.

1957 T-Bird High Bid $11,500

1945 Chevrolet Pickup High Bid $400,000

I met a number of Triangle members who were enjoying the show including Jim Aldrich, Chet Butcher, Floyd Barnes, Jim Gill, and Bill Werner. I also found Tom Pruitt inspecting a Packard Woody and Annie Goldman on the job driving the vehicles across the auction block.

13. A Visit To Billy Eubanks Collection

By Denny Oestreich

Pictures by Denny Oestreich and Joe Parsons

On Sunday December 13 members of the Triangle Chapter and several other car clubs visited Billy Eubanks near Pittsboro. The group met first at the Carolina Brewery and Grill in Pittsboro for lunch and then drove to visit Mr. Eubanks and see his car collection. When we arrived he took the time to tell us about his background. Mr. Eubanks has been restoring and collecting cars at his home garage since he was a boy. He started restoring cars with his father who enjoyed doing the mechanical, while Billy learned all about body work and painting cars. He became an expert painter and even specialized in restoring fiberglass cars. He told us he became an expert in painting with lacquer just at the time that lacquer painting was discontinued. He continued to learn other paint systems. He has painted and restored many cars in their shop at the old home place where he continues to live and work.

Eventually, Mr. Eubanks was recruited to teach auto body work at Wake Tech and in local High Schools. He has spent his life enjoying auto body repair, teaching auto body repair, and collecting cars. He has learned to appreciate many different cars. The pictures below show some of our favorite cars from his large collection of over 100 cars. When someone asked him which was his favorite car he said, "the car I'm working on this week."

Mr. Eubanks spoke to the group about his back ground and experiences.

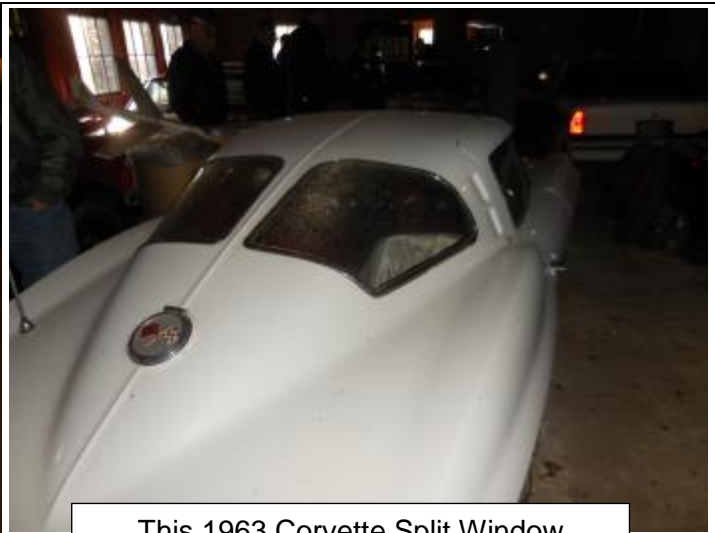

The Group included about 40 to 50 people from several clubs.

Mr. Eubanks collection is housed in many garages, buildings and shelters on his large property. Many of the cars have been stored in the same position for many years. Several of us have been to visit Mr. Eubanks in the past. Each of us had our favorite vehicles. We were allowed to wander and look into all the garages and shelters and at the cars stored outside.

This 1954 Corvette was purchased in Cary and was his first fiberglass restoration

This 1963 Corvette Split Window Coupe was a favorite of many of us.
