HERSHEY!

By Annie Goldman

What is going on with this photo? I know that's what you're thinking! Well, I'll tell you the story.

While killing some time before Judging started on Saturday, I witnessed a great thing happen. However, it didn't start out so great. The fire truck on the right was stuck. We had heavy rain on Thursday, and then rain Friday night into Saturday morning, so while the show field wasn't real bad, it proved troublesome for this truck as he got stuck. Many people tried pushing it, digging out the wheels, the driver was rocking it back and forth. Nothing worked. Then the owner of the military truck (behind the small red firetruck on the left) came up in front of the bigger fire truck, hooked him up to his hitch and pulled him out of the hole! It was such a wonderful thing to watch people helping each other in such a way. It really was heart warming and shows just how great car people are—no matter how BIG your vehicle is, we are there to help each other out.

President's Corner

By Jim Gill

What an exciting month we have ahead for all of us. As we turn our attention from the car show period to the car rework period. I already played musical cars in my garage by moving one off property, repositioning two others from garage to shop so that I can get started on the next chapter. Yes, another Model T. But this one is a little different, instead of front wheels it has skies. Instead of a single axle differential, it has two sets of rear axles and four rear wheels. All to accommodate tracks to be driven in snow. That remains to be seen.

The next exciting activity is elections. We have elections for US legislature positions, state legislature positions, state judge-ships, county commissioners, school board positions, and bonds as well as amendments. But just as important is our own Triangle Chapter car club positions.

This will take place at our November meeting so mark your calendar and be sure to attend. We will be voting for President, Vice-President, Treasurer and three Board memberships. Please contact Riley if you have an interest in being part of the management team of our chapter for next year.

The last exciting item actually happens the first Sunday in December, our club Christmas Party. Details are in the newsletter. Notices will be going out shortly asking for your response. Let's make this one a memorable one that we all enjoy. A lot of effort has already been expended by our four member committee trying to make this one exciting.

This month's newsletter is heavy in Hershey conversations, photos and stories. Part of me wants to apologize while another part of me feels like we need to share more stories and information! If you are at an event—any event — let us know about it. Even if it's a short story with one photo or a bunch of photos with captions. It's fun to share and read about the successes (and even the not-so-successful events) and see what each other has been up to.

I felt like Hershey this year was a different season each day! Thursday—Spring Showers; Friday—Winter winds; Saturday—

Fall uncertainty! Sunday (on the drive home) was Summerlike! Oh well. Chalk up another interesting year in the books and look forward to next year!

Thursday was teeming with rain! But it was warm, so it wasn't so bad.

Last Month's Meeting Notes

By Dean Tryon

Action Items and Upcoming Events:

1. 11/10 – Chick Fil-A show on Capital Blvd near 401 and Millbrook. Time is 9:30-3 and each car will get a free lunch combo. Jack Agayoff is coordinating (919-846-8570)
  2. 10/20 – NC Region Fall Meet at Spencer. Still need cars for the show.
  3. 10/27 – Fall get together at Joel Hoffman's house. Details are in the Evite. 4-6 PM, bring dish to pass, 2 other clubs will be participating.
  4. 11/3 – Percy Flowers show in Garner. They would like the T demo but we will only do it if we have a full crew identified before the show date. This is an event to support the Wounded Warriors program. All cars welcome and no cost to participate.
  5. 12/3 – Annual Christmas Party at the Stag Club on Ray Rd. More info will be in the newsletter. Jean Soehnlein is coordinating. Annie sent out a questionnaire on the party. If you have suggestions on caterers, contact Jean Soehnlein (919-609-1771).
- May 2019 – our annual show location is under discussion since the Triangle Town Center wants to charge us $1000 to use their parking lot (was free the last 2 years.) If you have any suggestions, contact Riley (919-816-6803).

General discussion:

1. Jim Gill opened the meeting and introduced new member Jim Cox (63 Avanti). Jim was at the Brier Creek show and recruited by Joe Parsons. Guests included Jim's grandchildren and niece.
2. Marv Gage reported that membership is at 95 families and the treasury is at $8100. We have 4 free memberships to National for new members. Dues are coming up by the end of the year so if you are not paid by 12/31, you cannot participate in AACA events. Send checks for all 3 (National, Region and Chapter = $65) to Marv Gage and he will get them to the right places.
3. Jim Gill reported on the Alamance show success features. They do a sale to support Hospice, have Chick Fil-A and raffle off a car.
4. Our Board will consider supporting the new AACA Headquarters building in Hershey.
5. Dan Fuccella reported on future meeting topics but the Oct meeting on Fire Safety had a late cancellation by the Fire Marshall. Will be re-scheduled to Jan 2019.

The Triangle Chapter participated in the Oak View Heritage day event. Five members displayed their cars and 10 members participated in a Take A-Par-T Demonstration. The event was a fun day for young families and especially for kids. They Oak passengers and answering questions. The Chapter did one Take A-Par-T demonstration. With 10 Team members, some of whom were new and some who were a little forgetful, the assembly time was about 10 minutes. Let's see; does the splash pan go on top or under; which hole do the front fenders go in; does the turtle shell go on first or the rear fenders? The time was not a record, but good only our third time out this year and we all had fun. Thanks to Riley Riener and George Ashley for transporting the Take A-Par-T.

View Park had many activities including animal displays with raptors, chickens, a lama, an alpaca, miniature donkeys, ponies and goats. There was also a real fish pond, pony rides, and a horse drawn wagon ride. There were also many yard games for the kids to play. A band played for much of the day. The longest line was for the free pony rides.

Members displaying cars included Jim Gill, Marv Gage, Denny Oestreich, Ben Johnson, and John MacDonald. With only five Triangle Cars available, each car owner answered many more questions. Jim Gill's 1925 Model T probably had more different passengers in the car than it had for the previous 93 years of its history. His grand daughters were in charge of Wednesday afternoon, Joel and I made our (now) annual trek up to Hershey, PA—or as Riley likes to call it “Holy Week” - for the National Fall Meet. Getting on the road a day early gives us the opportunity to get onto the field early Thursday and we get to see his dad and long-time family friend, Bob for some extra time.

We met up with dad and Bob at National Headquarters and the Library and viewed the awards on display, as well as the cars in the small display area between the two sections. While checking out all of the great memorabilia in Steve Moskowitz’s office, we met Stacy Zimmerman, editor of National’s monthly online newsletter, “Speedster”. We chatted for a long while about events going on, the new building, fundraising, newsletter stuff and the Philly meeting next February. Such a sweet lady!

Since the rain seemed to be dying down, we took out our rain gear and headed to the Car Corral to see if I could find a car to take home. (As Joel puts it, the money from the sale of the Burb is burning a hole in my pocket!) Once we got onto the fields, the rains decided to play games with us—it would drizzle, then stop, then downpour, then stop, then drizzle again. We walked the entire way around the Car Corral and I guess due to the rain, there weren’t that many cars on display and even fewer owners to talk to. Unfortunately, I never found anything interesting enough to seek more information. I ended up with most of my money still in my pocket (but I did get each of us a t-shirt and I got a sweat-shirt too).

We spent quite a few hours walking and eventually, we made our way all the way back to where we started. All three men were completely soaked through and needed to change into dry clothes after going back to the hotel. While they went to the Museum, I stayed behind to not only rest my knee, but also to run the sopping wet clothes in the dryer!

Thursday night, we went to dinner at “Hershey Family Restaurant” with Bob Gault, Joe Parsons, Joel’s dad and Bob. This place was really good with lots of choices and good portions and really yummy dessert too!

Friday was a completely different day, weather wise! We began early in the day, walking the flea market vendors. Everyone was bundled up tight to ward off the cold PA winds.

I ran into lots of AACA members I haven’t seen in weeks/months/maybe a year, so that was great, but man was it windy and cold!!!

There are always interesting items for sale, from car parts and complete vehicles, to antique clothes, toys and other memorabilia. There’s almost something for everyone. (I didn’t find any parts for my 1990 454SS!)

At 2pm, I had volunteered to work the AACA membership booth to help get new members and to process membership renewals for 2019. I had a great time working with a bunch of different people and meeting everyone who came in from the cold wind for a little bit. I found out later that day that Jay Leno was just about 100’ away at the AACA Library tent! I missed meeting the man himself, but Joel saw him on the showfield and got a photo of him reminiscing over a vehicle he owns!

That evening, a group of us went to dinner at Fenucci’s in downtown Hershey. Bob Gault and Joe Parsons joined us again, along with Dan Mortan and Grady Connor (and Joel’s Dad and Bob). After our drinks were served, we toasted our friend Cecil, had some salad and bread and then got our meals. Every portion was huge and yummy! However, Bob Gault had the biggest meal—a Stromboli which hung over the sides of his pizza plate! We chatted a few hours about our days sightings, events, purchases and what not.

After dinner, our small group headed to the RM Sotheby’s Auction to catch the last few cars go over the block.

The library was very busy on Thursday!

The dinner gang at Fenucci's: Bob Gault, Joe Parsons, Annie & Joel Goldman, Dan Morton, Bob & Dad and Grady Connor.

This robot was just adorable and for sale in the flea market.

This sign make me laugh out loud!

I think this man has been to a few Hershey meets!!

The Hershey fall meet has been a “bucket list” item for many years. Living in Northern California, I never seemed able to plan the trip. I have been a member of AACA for over 15 years but participated in no AACA events. Mainly due to very few AACA events to attend in Northern California. Once I moved to North Carolina, I knew my AACA participation would change. Going to Hershey this year was a last-minute arrangement. Some plans had changed and I was free to go. I called the chief judge after the registration deadline to see if there was any chance I could judge. He said to mail the registration form ASAP. When I received my parking passes, I knew I was “in”. The next thing I needed to do was find a place to stay. My very resourceful wife found me a room at the Hilton Garden Inn, Harrisburg. I left town on Thursday with plans to hit the flea market on Friday and attend the judging school for a “refresher” that afternoon. Saturday I would judge. I walked the flea market Friday until I could walk no more, attended the judging school and headed back to the hotel exhausted. It looked like I would be judging in the rain again like at the Charlotte meet but it cleared up by the time judging started. I got to judge my favorite, muscle cars. AMC and GM to be specific. My judging team were a great bunch of guys. The team captain was Marc Spina who is the National Chairman of CJE and VP Central Division of the National Activities Committee. A super nice guy. After judging was completed, his wife took a picture of the team and posted it on the AACA forum. The grey bearded one second from the right is me.

"Barbie" getting cozy in her new home

I enjoyed another Hershey fall meet and this year will be memorable. It's always great to win an award at Hershey but this year I actually sold my 1955 Studebaker Speedster to a collector friend who has a garage in Hershey. ( I know the car went to an owner who loves the car and will give it a good home in his multi car collection including several other Studebakers.)

You never know about the weather in Hershey and this year had its dry and wet days. Arriving on Wednesday gave me time to unload the speedster to the new owner and get in some time browsing the vendors for what else... Studebaker parts. Thursday was a terrible rain day but I still walked over 8 miles in the off and on rain. Friday was very windy and somewhat cold but no rain. Saturday was show day and even with some earlier rain the day cleared for the show field.

It was another enjoyable evening dining with several club members and we all toasted Cecil in memory for his dining with us last year. ( We certainly missed him.)

All this would not be possible for me if it was not for Bob Gault who has transported my cars and is the best of friends.

Mike Petersen holds up his seventh—that's right 7th—Perfect Attendance Award after Judge's Breakfast Saturday morning. In order to receive the Perfect Attendance Award, you must be a judge at every AACA National event in one calendar year.

And how many Judging Credits does that make for Mike? 310 as of this writing! That's a lot of events, judging schools and CJE's!!

Oh yeah, Mike was also elected to the National Awards Committee too this year. (What does that mean, Annie?) When a vehicle is nominated for a National Award that's given out at the meeting in Philadelphia, Mike is part of the team who suggests which vehicle should be eligible.

Thank you Mike for all of your hard work in making our hobby and club so amazing!!!

Everyone receives the Speedster, the AACA newsletter. Well this lady I'm posing with is Stacy Zimmerman, your National Newsletter editor!

While at the Library, Joel and I were checking our Steve Moskowitz's office and this nice lady walks up and starts chatting with us. I see her name tag and my brain wouldn't connect the dots to how I know her. Then I finally introduced myself and she said, "I'm the Speedster editor." Oh yeah! We chatted some more about the new building, how the plans are progressing, information about the library and the National Awards on display.

I ran into her a few times over the weekend and she was having a great time and always smiling.

If you get to Headquarters, make sure you stop by and thank her for the great newsletter!

Some More Happenings At Hershey

Grady Connor received his award for 25 Judging Credits, earning him his Senior Master Judge status!

Great job helping to not only keep this great hobby alive, but by also helping keep the judging going too! Without you and so many others, there would be no car show!

Bob Gault and Joe Parsons transported this Ford Analyzer to the AACA Museum (not affiliated with the AACA) and donated it in Cecil Boarth's honor. They were quite thrilled to not only receive a great piece of memorabilia, but they also had books and brochures to go with it. Hopefully sometime soon, it will be on display in the museum.

As for my observations, it seems like the brass-era cars are shrinking in number except for the very exceptional models, the few die-hards who show up each year, and a smattering of Model Ts.

The twenties-era cars switch out each year with about the same number showing up, about two full rows.

The thirties and forties cars are shrinking in number. Muscle cars seem to be holding their own, and they are by far the largest class. Newest cars - no pattern on numbers/types yet that I could detect.

I'm not seeing a whole lot of 30-somethings taking over this old-car hobby. I'm worried...

"Something old, Something New, Something Chocolate, Green and Huge" The phrase was borrowed and modified from the souvenir metal sign from the Hershey Region in 1993. Hershey is always a good experience even if we got heavy liquid sunshine on Thursday and early on Saturday. Dean Tryon, Fred Harley and I shared a flea market booth with Wolfgang from Vienna as we have for six years or more. I had good luck selling some spare parts that I knew I would never use. It seemed every time I left the booth, Dean or Fred would sell something for me. I had everything priced as a starting point which was always negotiable. Sandra was pleased that I only brought home a taillight for the Take Apart T and a book and a calendar which she buys from me, wraps it up and gives it back to me for Christmas. We have been doing this for several years.

I guess the big surprise was seeing Jay Leno on the show field Saturday morning. I figured that someday he would show up at Hershey. Jay had no entourage, was dressed very casual and was walking around in the early brass and steam cars area enjoying the show.

Some very interesting vehicles were shown as were presented in slides at the October meeting. I do not know the total number of cars on the show field but it was not a 'wash-out' by any means.

After watching the cars depart the judging field for a half hour or so, Sandra and I headed for Chocolate World, the Chocolate Story of Milton Hershey's dream and candy for Halloween if it lasts that long.

We stayed with my sister and her family in Wilmington, Delaware Saturday night and headed home on Sunday morning. Traffic was good until we crossed the Potomac River in Washington. From that point until almost Fredrickburg, Va., it was 10 to 15 mph. No accidents or construction to contend with; it was just volume.

2018 was my 46th Hershey and I hope not my last. Remember, a bad day at Hershey is better than a good day at work!

The Furnitureland Chapter did it again with another splendid meet held at the NC Transportation Museum in Spencer NC.

The drive out was a little wet at times, but the rain soon made it's presence know around 10am... when we were starting to judge! About 110 cars were preregistered for the event and I think about 30 or so stayed home, warm and dry in their garages. The cars that made the trip out were beautiful and proudly displayed by their owners.

Six Chapter Members showed their vehicles: Jim Schrieber, Glen Andrews, John & Helen DiPietro, Chet Butcher, Bob & Judy Simpson, and Riley Reiner each brought home their respective Red Birds. I was joined on the judge's staff by Denny Oestreich and Jack Agayoff.

Chet Butcher was the big winner this time out! His car also received the "Fred Ross Memorial Trophy" for vehicles that have had restoration work completed since the preceding spring meet".
